

Five Senses by Daria Hunter

Won't look into your eyes
Refuse to connect
Sometimes it better
If emotions we neglect

Won't embrace your hug
Where emotions begin
Fall for your warmth
Find too much comfort in

Won't listen to your voice
The smile it brings to my face
Hearing memories replayed
Addicted to the daze

Avoiding your scent
Leaves me with confliction
Lingers in my soul
Reminds me of addiction

Ill taste the bitter truth
Be honest with myself
Cause I'd see you and follow you anywhere
To realize you're there with someone else.
